

- 42 year old female
- Acute pain in region of the right ischial tuberosity (no acute or old trauma known).
- What is this?
- Is this an underlying osteochondroma? Old avulsion injury?
- If osteochondroma, what is the reason for the surrounding edema and the T2 dark signal within the cartilage cap?
- Is there hemorrhage?
- Any ideas?
- What is the next diagnostic step? (no x-ray or ct yet)
